

WALKER BEATS HYLAN FOR MAYORALTY

YOUNG LAFOLLETTE WINS SENATE RACE, PROGRESSIVES HAPPY, REGULARS SAD

ELECTION VICTORY ASSURED BY HEAVY PRIMARY MAJORITY

Bob Jr., Carries All Sections That Held For Late Senator

Madison, Wis., Sept. 16.—Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., will assume his father's seat in the United States Senate his heavy majority in the primary election on Tuesday practically assured.

More than half of the Wisconsin precincts showed LaFollette leading Roy P. Wilcox, Republican standard bearer by a vote of three to one with the other candidates for the Republican nomination trailing far behind. These precincts were representative of the entire state and included all sections.

Returns from 1769 of the 2691 precincts of the state give: LaFollette, 124,489. Wilcox, 62,603. Woodward, 28,294. McGovern, 14,013. This gives LaFollette a plurality of 61,874.

The remaining vote will be made up from missing precincts in the districts already partially reported and will not change the ratio of the LaFollette victory.

In Wisconsin past experience has shown that the winning of the Republican nomination practically assures final victory. The election is to be held September 29.

Young LaFollette won every one of his father's strongholds and lost the Walworth and Rock County sections that had clung vigorously to his father's conservative opponents.

LaFollette spent election night with Governor John J. Blaine and a group of friends in the executive office. He refused to make any public statement on the election but declared that he would probably do so sometime today.

The surprise of the election was the strength shown by Daniel Woodward, Ku Klux Klan candidate, who outdistanced Francis F. McGovern, former governor. Both were competing with LaFollette and Wilcox for the Republican nomination.

In half of the state vote Woodward polled 19,162 and McGovern 7,151. Politicians scouted belief that the Woodward vote represented the strength of the Wisconsin Klan. They claimed that Woodward had received the support of the ardent Wisconsin dries.

FATHER OF CHILD IS HELD FOR ATTACK

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 16.—Otis Perry, 48, Salvation Army worker, and father of pretty 14 year old Alberta Perry, street singer, whose throat was cut in a midnight razor attack at the mission, was bound over to the grand jury by Municipal Judge D. C. Throckmorton today on a charge of incest.

The defendant pleaded not guilty. In default of a bond fixed at $25,000, Perry was lodged in the Franklin county jail.

Perry's daughter, now in a hospital, recovering from a badly slashed throat, admitted to police that she had improper relations with her father for more than a year.

THINK MISSING GIRL IS IN METROPOLIS

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 16.—While police all over the country, especially in New York, were helping Robert Moyer locate his 15 year old daughter, the missing girl's mother is certain the girl has heard the call of the big city and had gone there to fulfill her stage aspirations.

Lucille Moyer is an excellent violinist, her folks say, and she has always spoken of swirling New York and the chances there for a performer with a sort of wistfulness.

Meanwhile Mother Moyer walks the downtown department stores in hopes of running across Lucille.

WILL BUILD SPUR INTO WRIGHT FIELD

Bids are now being advertised for the construction of a railway spur into the new Wright Field situated near Fairfield and Osborn. It was publicly announced Tuesday by Colonel Edward S. Walton, of the United States Quartermaster corps. The bids will be opened October 14.

When the spur is begun, this work will represent one of the first pieces of actual construction on the new air field. The 5,000 acre tract was donated to the government by Dayton citizens.

BALDWIN OPPONENTS SPUR INDIGNATION OVER TURK OFFENSES

War With Turkey Is Claimed Inevitable Over Mosul Acts

London, Sept. 16.—Public indignation over the alleged Turkish violation of the Mosul territory and the deportation of Christians from that territory, is being fanned by political opponents of the Baldwin government.

War with Turkey is predicted as inevitable in quarters where there has been consistent opposition to the continued British mandate over Iraq and the disputed Mosul oil fields.

Great Britain's protest to the league of nations that the Turks have violated the status quo of the Mosul district, is held by the opponents of the government to be only the first step in a dispute which may lead to war with Turkey for the possession of the oil fields of Mosul.

Opposition newspapers give considerable space to the deportation of Christians from the Goya country and attacks upon Christian monasteries.

While admitting the situation is unpleasant, government officials are inclined to believe that early reports of the Turkish activities are exaggerated and express confidence that an agreement will be reached whereby hostilities can be avoided.

From Geneva came reports that the Turkish delegates there flatly deny the deportation of Christians, claim that there are no Christians in the territory reported to have been raided as they fled over a year ago, when Turkish troops entered to punish persons who had kidnaped the Turkish governor.

SEVEN RESCUED IN FIRE IN RECTORY

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 16.—Seven persons, including two priests, were rescued early today and a dozen families, residents of a nearby apartment house, were routed from their beds when fire of undetermined origin totally destroyed the rectory of St. Francis Church, Germantown.

Many thousands of dollars worth of sacred relics and famed paintings were destroyed. The church, directly across the street, was untouched by the flames.

Five firemen were overcome by smoke before the blaze was subdued, after a two hour battle.

BANK BANDIT STILL AMONG THE MISSING

No new clue has been found in connection with the robbing of the Milledgeville Bank a week ago and only officers of the insurance company are now making an effort to uncover clues that would lead to apprehension of the bandit.

ADMINISTRATION IS WORRIED AS DEFEAT SPURS INSURGENTS

Victory Gives Rebels New Rallying Post Republicans Hold.

Washington, Sept. 16.—The overwhelming victory won by "Young Bob" LaFollette in the Republican senatorial primary in Wisconsin, was received today with joy whoops from the Progressives and furrowed brows from the administration regulars.

To the dwindling handful of insurgents in the senate, his victory meant another LaFollette to carry on the policies so long pursued by "Old Bob" in both houses of congress; to the Republican regulars, it spelled the most severe political defeat the administration has suffered since the enormous Coolidge landslide in November.

To the regulars it spelled too, the continuance of a militant opposition to many Coolidgean policies in the oncoming session of Congress.

Had young Bob been defeated, it would have marked the well nigh complete passing of the insurgent bloc in the senate that in the past few years has exerted such a powerful influence in national affairs.

Death and defeat have cut heavily into the insurgents ranks in recent months. Now, it is conceded, the rebels have a new rallying post — Wisconsin is still outside the pale of Republicanism, as that term is accepted at the White House.

No body in Washington from President Coolidge down to the senate page boys, has any doubt but that young LaFollette's primary victory yesterday will be followed two weeks hence by his election. The impressive proportions of his victory — a clear cut majority over all opposition, apparently makes independent and opposition races futile.

Thus in a few weeks will be witnessed for the first time in the nation's history a youngster, barely out of his twenties, walking directly from his father's grave to an office for which older, and wealthier and more distinguished men have eaten their hearts out in vain.

The new senator has been dandled on the knees of some of those who shortly will be his colleagues.

The progressive insurgents in congress found particular satisfaction in young Bob's victory today in the fact that it came in the face of active opposition from the White House and the regular Republican organization.

Senator Lennox, the administration's Wisconsin representative, was delegated by Senator William M. Butler, chairman of the national committee to organize the LaFollette opposition. And only a few hours before the polls opened, Chairman Butler issued a solemn "warning" to Wisconsin Republicans that if they chose the son of Bob LaFollette their choice would be repudiated by the regular Republican organization.

TRUSTY ESCAPES FROM REFORMATORY

Mansfield, O., Sept. 16.—John Paplyk, working at the dairy barn as a trusty escaped today from the reformatory by stealing the Dodge coupe of the reformatory construction manager. Paplyk's home is in Cleveland, from which city he was committed for robbery in 1922.

Eighteen boys were released on parole today, 13 from the Sandusky honor camp, four from Mt. Vernon honor camp and one from the department of welfare, Columbus.

TO BE IN AGAIN

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 16.—When Clarence Johnson, colored, steps from the Ohio county jail Thursday after serving six months for pistol testing, he will be arrested by Detective O. C. Kaffits, of Columbus, to be taken to that city to answer to the charge of murder, Frank Hartwell, sixty year old grocer having been his alleged victim.

MAYBE JUDGE SMITH WAS STILL ASLEEP WHEN HE SAW SQUIRREL ON GUN BARREL

E. Dawson Smith, judge of Xenia's Municipal Court, has discovered a new method to hunt squirrels, which although unsuccessful when given a test Tuesday, bids fair to supplant the standard method.

Fay Lamphear, of California, chosen as the most beautiful girl in America, rushed right into her mother's arms at Atlantic City after the verdict was announced and proclaimed to the wide world that all credit was due to her parent.

CONTROL BOARD DELAYS APPROVAL OF PHONE RATE PROBE EXPENSES

Columbus, O., Sept. 16.—The state board of control today is withholding its approval of the expenditure of $75,000 by the state utilities commission in connection with its contemplated statewide investigation of the telephone rate situation until after the commission employs an expert appraisal engineer.

This engineer, whose service will be temporary, is to appraise the property of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company and check up on inventory. He also will co-operate with Attorney W. S. McConaughy, Dayton, in working out a detailed plan for the investigation as speedily as possible.

This plan is to be submitted to the control board. If the plan is satisfactory the board then will authorize expenditure of the $75,000 by the commission, it was stated.

Attorney General Crabbe has employed McConaughy as special counsel to take care of the legal phases of the investigation. The control board approved payment of $25,000 for the services of McConaughy and another attorney, yet to be selected, to aid him.

DEATH OF FRANK LEE IN OHIO PENITENTIARY ENDED HUNGER STRIKE BEGUN WEEK AGO

End Came While Counsel Was Preparing Appeal From Verdict—Slayer Ate Heartily While In County Jail Here

Frank Lee, 35, colored, who died in the hospital of the Ohio State Penitentiary Tuesday noon, won a hunger strike which Ohio penitentiary officials had been trying for a week to terminate.

The slayer died with words of innocence upon his lips, it is said. Lee is survived by his widow living in Monroe, Mich., and three children in Alabama. His body will be shipped to Birmingham, Alabama for burial.

Acute cardiac dilation caused death but prison officials declared the hunger strike undoubtedly contributed to his weakened condition. Lee had been fed against his will for a week, officials forcing him to take liquid nourishment through a tube at certain periods daily.

Beginning his fasting period a week ago, Lee said, "the Lord is feeding me." According to Warden P. E. Thomas only one other man has died in the death annex at the penitentiary, the other occurring nine years ago.

Sudden death of Lee came as a complete surprise to local authorities and his own counsel, E. D. Smith, judge of Xenia's Municipal Court, who defended the slayer during his trial. Judge Smith was preparing to carry the case to the Court of Appeals in an effort to alter the verdict of guilty in Common Pleas Court, when his client passed away.

Lee's unexpected decision to go on a hunger strike was as surprising as his attitude of indifference in the County Jail after he was convicted. While being held in jail, Lee slept well, ate regularly and heartily and never missed a meal.

Authorities believe the strain of the trial, and the long period of anxiety occasioned by the approach of his execution date aggravated his already weakened condition and led him to adopt extreme measures of self punishment.

The slayer died with words of innocence upon his lips, it is said. Lee is survived by his widow living in Monroe, Mich., and three children in Alabama. His body will be shipped to Birmingham, Alabama for burial.

Simultaneously came word of a statewide search for John Paplyk, Cleveland robber convict, trusty at Mansfield reformatory who was sent by the warden to do an errand in the warden's car. John violated the warden's trust in him and fellow inmates say they believe he came to Xenia, land, his old haunt, to get a "stake."

PULLED MASK OFF OF TAMMANY MEN HYLAN SAYS AFTER DEFEAT

Mayor Says Traction Interests Paid For Walker Victory

New York, Sept. 16.—"I am pleased at two things," was Mayor Hylan's first statement to a group of newspapermen he found awaiting his arrival at city hall today.

"The first is that I pulled the mask off the big Tammany Hall man from Albany. The second is that I made the traction and underworld interests expend an average of $400 an election district to defeat me."

The mayor reached city hall almost on the dot at ten o'clock. He rode over from his Brooklyn home in his automobile with his secretary and son-in-law, John F. Sinnott, his brother-in-law Detective Irving O'Hara and Francis F. Bent, a director in the board of estimate. He smiled affably at the newspapermen who stood on the steps of city hall and greeted them pleasantly.

When one of the reporters handed him a newspaper containing an editorial which suggests the possibility of the mayor running independently, Mayor Hylan, without reading the newspaper editorial said:

"I have not seen any newspapers this morning except two and I don't know what is in the others."

Then followed his comment on the result of yesterday's primary election. When he finished his terse observation the mayor hurried into his offices.

QUIZ YOUNG GIRL ABOUT FIRE DAMAGE

Coshocton, O., Sept. 16.—Believing her guilty, despite her protestations of innocence, of setting fire to $100,000 worth of farm buildings on the William Dicksheet farm, near New Bedford, Anna Welling, 15, is being grilled by Sheriff Harold Marquand, fire Chief James Tracewell and Deputy State Fire Marshal John Laird.

Anna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Welling, tenants on the Dicksheet farm. Sheriff Marquand stated she accused her brothers, Arthur, 8, and Paul, 7, of causing the fires which destroyed a bank barn, its contents and a substantial hog shed. The boys, also, she said, according to the sheriff, stoned windows in the Dicksheet home and attempted to set it on fire.

A "smoker" will also feature the meeting and all members are asked to be present.

TAMMANY CANDIDATE LEADS OPPONENT BY NEAR 100,000 VOTES

Waterman Nominated By Republicans By Six To One

New York, Sept. 16.—With only forty-six election districts out of the 2,970 in the fire boroughs missing, Senator James J. Walker's plurality was 91,760 over his opponent Mayor John F. Hylan in the Democratic mayoralty primary contest.

The latest returns gave Walker 243,353 votes to Hylan's 151,593.

On the Republican side the victory for Frank D. Waterman was overwhelming over his primary opponents John J. Lyons and William M. Bennett the manufacturer receiving six votes to his opponents one.

Waterman's vote with 46 districts missing, was 108,859. Lyons received only 15,902 votes and Bennett, 5,289.

Republican returns were slower in coming in but an estimated total vote of more than 150,000 showed that interest in the various contests had brought out fifty percent of the city's registered voting strength.

The bulk of Walker's strength was shown on Manhattan, with a plurality of 74,000 while the rest of his lead was obtained in the Bronx and Brooklyn.

Mayor Hylan carried Richmond and was the apparent winner in a close race in the borough of Queens. Maurice Connolly, renominated for a borough president of Queens, and John A. Lynch, renominated for borough president of Richmond, were the only candidates on the Hylan ticket to win.

With Walker were nominated Chas. W. Berry, for comptroller and Joseph V. McKee, for president of the board of alderman.

The figures on the Democratic mayoralty contest, with 131 districts missing were: Manhattan, Walker 100,133; Hylan, 25,853; Brooklyn, Walker 66,405; Hylan 60,687; Bronx, Walker 43,180; Hylan, 20,057; Queens, Walker, 24,304; Hylan, 27,523; Richmond: Walker, 6,190; Hylan, 11,997.

PROFESSOR LORD OF OHIO STATE IS DEAD

Columbus, O., Sept. 16.—Funeral arrangements were being made today for the late Prof. Henry C. Lord, 59, who died Tuesday night at the McMillen sanitarium, near here. Lord was director of the Emerson McMillen observatory at Ohio State University during the past 21 years.

Death was due to a nervous breakdown. He had been ill two years.

Prof. Lord was chosen assistant professor in astronomy and mathematics at Ohio State in 1891. Nine years later, he became professor in astronomy and in 1904 was appointed director of the observatory. He was a member of the American Astronomical society and a fellow of the Royal Astronomical society.

His survivors include his widow, Mrs. Edith L. Lord; a daughter, Mrs. George Landis, Columbus, and a sister, Miss C. A. Lord, Cincinnati.

BACHELOR GIRL IS UNHURT IN CRASH

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 16.—Miss Olivia Ames, the country's richest "bachelor girl," partner of the Prince of Wales in the hunt and ballroom when he was here, narrowly escaped death early today when her courage and coolness prevented her automobile from colliding with a Boston bound train at Pride's Crossing.

Miss Ames who is the daughter of Oliver Ames, was obliged to swerve so suddenly that her car skidded on the wet high road, crashed into the fence surrounding the estate of Judge William H. Moore, tore down the fence and threw Miss Ames from the driver's seat.

The sportswoman, however, injured to "croppers" in the hunt, picked herself up and assured Motorcycle Officer Marley that she was all right.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 16.—Approached by strangers with a scheme whereby all might become rich, Tom Bolek, 69, was induced to draw $3,490 from a bank, his savings of a lifetime. He said he wrapped in a paper, and then supposed it was handed to him to hold while the strangers went into a telegraph office. When they failed to return he opened it and found the package with his money had been switched and another substituted. The strangers made good their escape.

ARRESTED TWICE IN SAME DAY FOR SAME OFFENSE; GIVES BOND

Arrested within the space of a few hours twice in one day on separate counts charging the same offense, is the record of William A. Keller, 52 South June Street, Dayton, Ohio.

Keller was arrested early Tuesday by Special Deputy Sheriff Oliver Belden charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated, following a collision at Trebeins three miles west of Xenia, Sunday afternoon.

Keller's car collided with a machine driven by Loyd Weber and Herbert Naylor, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., at the Trebeins bridge. Weber and Naylor were returning from a tour to Kansas City.

Keller gave $200 bond Tuesday for appearance before J. E. Jones, Justice of the Peace, Saturday.

Later in the day Keller was re-arrested by Deputy Belden charged with a similar offense of driving an auto while intoxicated.

Arraigned in Probate Court Wednesday, Keller pleaded not guilty, gave $500 bond and his trial was set for Friday morning by Judge S. C. Wright.

The Dayton motorist believes his "cup is overflowing".

ARCTIC ISLAND IS SETTLED BY SOVIET COLONY IS LEARNED

Moscow, Sept. 16—Nova Zembla is no longer uninhabited and the title to its bleak hills now rests in Russian hands. The Soviet Government has just given the Arctic island a population and secured dominion over it by planting a colony on its south shore, at the mouth of the Black Gulf.

The action of the Soviets is calculated to put at rest all claims formerly made on the island by Norway. Although so far within the arctic circle that not even Eskimos had hitherto found it hospitable, Nova Zembla was in Russian eyes worth staking out for the future on account of its coal deposits and the seal fisheries in its vicinity.

Sent out by the White Sea State Trading Trust, an expedition explored the southern part of the island and chose the Black Gulf as the most favorable site for a settlement.

Houses have been erected of materials brought by steamship, and a year's store of food, guns, ammunitions and medicine has been supplied. Included in the equipment furnished the first Nova Zembla is a library stocked with communist literature.

Two ships, the "Koupava," and the "Murmansk" are now coasting along the western flank of Nova Zembla with a staff of scientists making hydrographic and topographic reports. They are directed by Prof. Matussevich, who hopes before the winter sets in to complete a detailed map of the island as far north as the promontory of Reese.

Abandonment of the Urbana water works and the chlorination of all water going into the city mains is being urged by W. H. Dittoe, chief engineer of the state board of health. Dittoe has urged this measure since last December.

Dittoe refused to approve for more than one year the two emergency wells now being sunk to relieve Urbana's water crisis. No action has been taken by Urbana officials to carry out the recommendations of the state department.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

BERNARR MACFADDEN

Failure to attain to the standard of weight usually accepted as the average need give no cause for alarm. Many persons are "thin"—but are in splendid health nevertheless. In the first place, some persons are remarkably small-boned; and no matter how much "covering" they possessed, they would never be as large as some of the other people about them. We must remember, too, that people tend to run in "types"—just as does and other animals do. There is an old saying: Did you ever see a thin pug-dog or a fat greyhound? "The reason is simply, that they tend to run into that particular 'mould'—no matter what their diet may be; and to a great extent it is the same with human beings. Thin people are generally active, wiry, energetic, nervous people; fat people are the placid, phlegmatic, happy type. "Energy" and "emaciation" seem to go hand in hand. Thin people are generally the world's workers. At the same time, this side of the question can be pushed too far. There is slenderness and there is real emaciation—and the two are very different. One is natural, the other is not. One's normal weight is the point at which one possesses the greatest degree of strength, endurance and vitality. For instance, a fat man, as his weight is reduced, gradually grows stronger; the thin man, as his weight will develop these qualities hand-in-hand with the gaining of healthy, muscular tissue. And it is the purpose of this discussion to point out plainly just what methods should be adopted to bring one's weight to such a point as to be in the finest physical condition possible.

A statement of the causes of the loss of weight or underweight is in order at this point, for in understanding what the condition is due to, one can more intelligently initiate steps to remedy it. Many diseases, as in the instance of catarrh, are caused mainly through improper elimination of wastes, and in constipation a most important avenue for the elimination of body wastes which clog and poison the system.

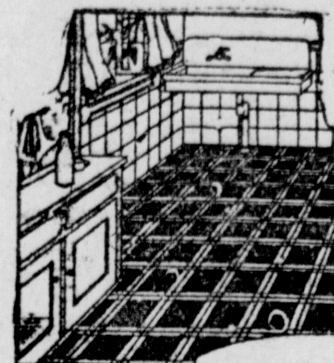

As a result the blood is perverted, and its nutritive powers impaired. It is inevitable that in disorders of the stomach and intestines that emaciation should develop.

FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE SMITH IS NAMED IN FINDING

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 16—Finding of $8,786.01 against former Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith is contained in a report made public by State Auditor Tracy today, covering a state examination of the records of the state auto registration division from January 1, 1920 to December 31, 1923.

In this report claim is made that Smith should pay this money into the state maintenance and repair fund because members of the Star Tire and Battery Company, Steubenville, while acting as deputy state auto registrars, collected $40,612.97 but remitted to the state auto registrar only $31,826.96.

This company, according to the report, was one of the agents appointed throughout the state by Smith in 1920 to receive applications for auto license plates, collect the fees, issue certificates of registration and deliver the plates.

Attention was directed to a ruling by the attorney general that appointment of these deputy registrars was illegal and that the secretary of state was liable for all license taxes paid such agents.

It was announced at the attorney general's department that the claim against Smith has been received from the state auditor's office. In view of the fact that the finding is based on an opinion of the attorney general, it was stated, Attorney General Crabbe feels obliged to press the claim against the former secretary of state.

Mr. Arthur Currie left Sunday morning for Delaware to re-enter Ohio Wesleyan University. He returned last Friday from Lake Placid where he spent the summer. Mr. Donald Currie is expected to return home soon from Saranac Lake where he spent several months.

HOBBIES OF THE GREAT AND NEAR GREAT AS TOLD BY NEWS WRITER

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the thirty-fifth and last of a series of intimate sketches which reveal the national political figure as a "brother under the skin" to the man behind the plow, the white collar worker or the day laborer.

CONGRESSMAN A. J. SABATH A tremendous ambition to humanize the American immigration laws is the pet hobby of Representative Adolph J. Sabath (D., of Ill.), himself an immigrant and one of the outstanding immigration authorities of Congress.

Coming to the United States from Bohemia in his youth, Sabath has maintained a deep personal interest in the welfare of immigrants. He knows their heartaches, their disappointments and their joys, and he has set his life to eliminating from the immigration statutes all provisions that unnecessarily inflict hardships upon those seeking a new home in America.

The story of Sabath's own life is a story of conquest against great odds. He was but a "shaver" when he landed in New York, an alien in a foreign land, but aflame with the fires of ambition. He went direct to Chicago, where he became a shoe-clerk in one of the foreign settlements. He shortly became accustomed to American ways and American institutions, became a citizen and entered politics. He studied law, was admitted to the bar, was elected a Municipal Court Judge for twelve years and then came to Congress, where he has served ten consecutive terms.

AIDS IMMIGRANTS. Now he wants to take the sting out of our immigration laws. In the new Selective Service bill he initiated the provisions which admit the wives and minor children of naturalized citizens.

BRANDT WILL CASE JURY IS SELECTED AND TRIAL STARTS

Suit of Herman Volkenand and others against Geo. Ferguson as executor, and other legatees to set aside the will of the late George Brandt, prominent Beaver Creek Township farmer, is being heard in Common Pleas Court before a jury of four women and eight men.

The jury selected Tuesday morning, is composed of the following: Mildred Prugh, Bertha Collins, Clara Ashbaugh, D. W. Painter, Bessie Wolf, J. T. Wones, J. Weir Cooper, S. P. Mallow, J. W. Adams, Clifford Miers, Lawrence Jones and Arthur Geary.

George Brandt, a widower without children, died leaving an estate worth approximately $25,000 to various friends in Beaver Creek Township and Xenia.

The case developed an interesting angle when Herman Volkenand and others, many of whom are residents of Germany, took action to contest the will claiming they are relatives and rightful legatees.

Attorney Frank L. Johnson represents the plaintiffs and Attorneys Marcus Shoup and C. L. Darlington represent the defendants.

Many witnesses were summoned by both sides and the trial was not expected to be concluded before Thursday.

MODISH MITZI "New?" "Oh, Very New," Says Mitzi

By JAY V. JAY

One is apt to ignore the coat question as long as warm weather lingers—but not Mitzi. She knows quite well that it is high time to look into this matter of the very new coats—with-out casting her eyes on the memorandum pad. Not one social engagement is listed just "Today Coats."

The very first coat Mitzi meets is worth consideration. Cape coats may not be so brand new but they are certainly going to have a high place in the mode. This black kasha model has sleeves that are cut to give a cape effect, the skirt is straight line yet is to be wrapped at the side just a little.

The new-fall top coats have collars of fur—mostly kimmer, lamb, kit fox and raccoon. The lines are very simple, close fitting at the shoulders with a suggestion of a flare at the hem. Such nice light woollens too, yet very warm. The lady with her back to us shows how effective the flare is for a more dressy type of coat.

These styles are all new, but the very new coat, the fur coat of clipped lamb is made to flare and has a double breasted effect with revers growing out of the collar. This coat has all of Mitzi's votes for fall and winter wear.

THE OLD TRANSFORMATION

I NEVER REALIZED WHAT A WONDERFUL THING MONEY WAS—NOW I KNOW MONEY MEANS HEALTH AND HAPPINESS—IT WAS A WISE MAN WHO SAID "IF YOU WISH TO KNOW THE VALUE OF MONEY TRY AND BORROW SOME"—I ALWAYS KNEW THE JOY MONEY BRINGS BUT I NEVER KNEW THE GREAT SORROW IT'S ABSENCE CAUSES UNTIL CARLOS ROBBED ME OF ALL MY SAVINGS—

OH, HENRIETTA, WHAT WILL BECOME OF YOU WITH ONLY $52.13 BETWEEN YOU AND STARVATION? YOU MUST HOARD IT LIKE A MISER—IT MEANS FOOD, HEALTH, EVEN LIFE ITSELF—AND I DON'T DARE THINK WHAT'LL BECOME OF YOU WHEN IT'S GONE—

LAW ENFORCEMENT.

MUCH is being said and heard of law enforcement and obedience to law. Everybody who has some law he especially desires enforced and obeyed is preaching enforcement of and obedience to that particular law. If they do not desire to appear prejudiced or to have a selfish purpose they make such specious claims as, "You must enforce all laws or no law."

When Stephen A. Douglas, in the course of a political campaign, declared "It is the first duty of all citizens to obey the law," this was an agricultural country, with few laws to be obeyed and still fewer enforced. Douglass could not practice today what he preached before the Civil war, except devote his whole time to the task and then he would be liable to arrest for vagrancy.

Dean Roscoe Pound, of the Harvard Law School, states that "much of what seems current disregard for law is connected with the change from a rural agricultural society to an urban industrial society. From the head of a big business, chafing under legislative restrictions on the conduct of his business, with well-paid counsel to advise him how to evade them or the owner of a new Ford, who can see no sense in the latest traffic regulation, there are infinite gradations of self-reliance, righteous protest, indifference, lawlessness and crime."

One may be surprised to hear from Dean Pound that "we have got to learn the art of administration," and that "our whole science of law in the past has ignored the subject of enforcement." Many believe, with Dean Pound that legislation in the future will not pass laws impossible of enforcement and that the future will bring revolutionary changes in methods of law enforcement.

INVASION.

THE double standard of morals which will restrain an otherwise respectable citizen from robbing a bank or stealing merchandise from a store, but which saves his conscience if he invades a farmer's orchard to steal fruit, must be a source of amazement to the average farmer.

They will tell you that an almost constant vigil is necessary to prevent the fruits of an orchard or the product of a vegetable garden from being entirely carried away. The automobile has brought the city dweller close to this virgin supply of green goods and also serves him in the necessity of a quick get-away.

He climbs over the fence, breaking off a post here or a wire strand there, walks past the sign which reads: "apples for sale," laughs at the "mad dog" threat now fast becoming obsolete, and then even goes so far as to climb the trees to obtain the most luscious fruit. If the farmer conceals his approach so carefully that the marauder has no chance to escape, he will brazen it out with the owner by intimating the latter is "stingy" because he regrets the loss of a few apples. Few recall that if the farmer permitted every traveler to gather all the fruit and vegetables he wanted, there would be none left for the rightful owner either for his table or the market.

The most straight-gaited citizens in the cities adopt this Apache personality when they go for a drive in the country and the conscience that permits such petty thievery must make many farmers wonder how far they would get if caught stealing merchandise in any city store.

THOSE WHO WORK.

ABOUT 40 per cent. of the total population of the United States and a fraction over one-half of the population of 10 has fluctuated narrowly since 1880, while that of female tions when the last census was taken. Of the men and boys 78 per cent. were at work for wages; of the women and girls 21 per cent.

The proportion of male workers to male population over 10 has fluctuated narrowly since 1880, while that of female workers in gainful occupations to female population over 10 has risen from 14.7 per cent., 40 years of age to 21.1, having been as high as 23.4, 11 years ago.

Looked at from another angle, there was one woman at gainful work to every five and a half men in 1880. Thirty years ago one woman to every four and three-quarters man. Twenty years ago one to every four and a half men, and 10 years ago one to every three and three-quarters men, with the ratio three and six-sevenths in 1920.

This rather upsets the accepted theory about women at work after the war. The really great invasion of gainful occupations by women was between 1900 and 1910, the era when the stenographer came into her own and the period of great industrial and commercial opportunities for women.

UNDERSTANDING

Some have to ask you if it hurts and hurt you more by questioning. Some seem to wonder why you grieve, and there's no comfort they can bring. But some there are who see your tears and move with gentle voice and hand. To guide you safely through the dark, the pain of it they understand.

They never question if it hurts, the sting and shock of it they know.

They seem like travelers who have been across the way where you must go.

There's a strength that you can trust, an understanding deep and true.

For in your darkest hour of need they know exactly what to do.

Those who have suffered take with them a sense of pain unto the end.

They need not question if it hurts or ask "how shall we play the friend?"

Knowing the need of spirits bruised and having braved such anguish through.

They come into your troubled life and hold the torch of faith for you.

Today's Talks

It doesn't take a philosopher to figure out that life is pretty much a series of ties.

And the older we get the more difficult it is to form a new tie or to loose the old one.

The fact is that the fewer ties we form in this world the happier we are. I have friends who seem to be tied to a regular spider web of ties from which they struggle unsuccessfully to escape.

One of the most unfortunate ties is that of being tied to a "set." There is little chance of escape here. You are swept on against your will and desire and often you go over the falls that take you into the rapids of failure.

Then there is the tie of acquaintanceship. You have to keep paying toll all along the way. And the way is a rough one at that.

We may not be able to choose our birthplace, but thank God, we may choose where to live! Also, we may choose when and where to move.

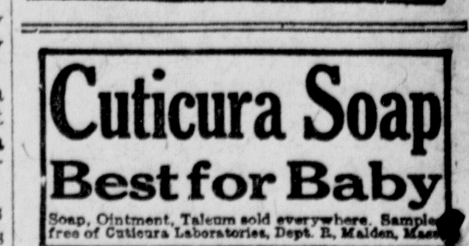

Another unhappy tie is that of a job. There should be no jobs—just tasks that when finished, call for a new one. I never want to melt away in a job.

I know of many a man who has bartered his success and happiness for a mere mess of pottage. He has stayed in the little town when he should have sought the big town. He has gone to sleep in a small business where he should have been wide awake in a big one.

I know a man who fights against the ties of his former life that are grossly unworthy of him. His fine ability is kept trimmed because he has not the courage to break former ties and make new ones compatible with his growth, and opportunity.

But there are ties that are very important. For instance when you tie your wagon to a star or two!

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY SECOND U. P. CHURCH AS PASTOR RELEASED FROM CHARGE

Resolutions were adopted by the congregation of the Second U. P. Church Sunday morning at the regular service, relative to the resignation of the pastor, Dr. C. P. Proudfit, D. D. They were presented by the special committee, consisting of R. E. Bryson, W. A. Bickett and Miss Anna Morrow, which had been elected by the congregation a week previous.

The Xenia Presbytery of the U. P. Church met in Columbus Monday and formally dissolved the pastoral tie existing between Dr. Proudfit and his people. The pulpit will be officially declared vacant after Dr. Proudfit's last sermon September 27.

The members of Presbytery gave unanimous and beautiful expression to the cordial relations existing between the outgoing pastor and the pastors and congregations of the Presbytery.

Resolutions drawn up by the local congregation read:

"The Reverend Charles P. Proudfit D. D., the beloved pastor for almost eight years of the Second United Presbyterian Church of Xenia, Ohio, has asked this congregation to acquiesce in his request to Presbytery to be released from its pastorate, in order that he may accept a call tendered him by the First United Presbyterian Church of Cambridge, Ohio.

"Because of our love and admiration for Dr. Proudfit and for Mrs. Proudfit, and because of our heartfelt approval of their work, it grieves us sorely to accede to this plea made by Dr. Proudfit.

"And yet we would not wish our emotions nor our felt need of his leadership here to stand in the way of a larger usefulness for him elsewhere.

"Therefore, since this call from Cambridge has come to Dr. Proudfit as a call from the Master, whom we and we serve, we, the members of the Second United Presbyterian congregation, yield our desire to retain him as our pastor, and do hereby concur with in asking Presbytery to release him from his present charge.

"In dissolving the relation existing between Dr. Proudfit and Second Xenia, this congregation loses:

"1. A preacher whose sermons, bearing the marks of scholarship and studious research, have been faithful and fervid presentations of the truths of the Bible and the way of life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

"2. A minister — who with courage and conviction, has preached 'from the heart to the heart' and has not hesitated to 'declare the whole counsel of God.'

"3. A pastor — who combines the serenity, the humor and the humility of greatness with a manner simple, direct and persuasive, thus leading his parishioners to trust implicitly his tender sympathy, his understanding and his helpfulness.

"4. A pastor's wife — whose rare gifts of mind and heart, whose charm of personality, whose understanding spirit, whose devotion to Christ and His cause have endeared her to all, and have made her influence inspiring and uplifting.

"5. A loyal upholder of the principles of the United Presbyterian Church.

"6. A friend — whose life as lived in our midst for nearly eight years is an index pointing to the divine Friend of man — Christ.

"7. A leader — a devout man of God, who has proved himself to be a worthy successor to the other eminent men who have filled this pulpit.

"8. A stalwart and aggressive opponent of evil in our community, a man who not only allies himself with, but leads in the organization of constructive forces for righteousness.

"Although our hearts are saddened by their going, we do rejoice with Dr. and Mrs. Proudfit in the widening horizon that is expanding before them. "We assure them of our continued interest and prayers. We commend them and their children to the mercy and guidance of our God.

"To First Cambridge we extend our felicitations because they are to have a forceful and devoted minister, — one, who if buttressed by the sympathy, loyalty and prayers of the people, will lead in accomplishing great things for the Kingdom of God."

A SHOPPING GUIDE FOR THE BARGAIN HUNTER

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY" BY MACK SAUER

SUNDAY MORNING SERMON

Ben Spry, my neighbor, is a jay who saves up for a rainy day. And in his cellar one can find jars full of fruit of every kind. His shelves are full of jars and jugs, of berry wine and lightning bugs. And when his kids this winter hike to school along the country pike, they'll have their buckets full, by jing, of sorghum, jams and everything.

The chiggers bit his frame, 'tis true, and he got blisters in his shoe; but he picked berries just the same, then picked the chiggers from his frame. And when the dandelions were fine, he put away two jugs of wine. They say he has two barrels of plums to feed his kids when winter comes.

We need more men like old Ben Spry, who lay some jam and berries by; who in the summer fill their bins with coal for winter's freezing shins. Who keep away from care and woe and save some berries as they go; who can a little jam and jack and keep a little stove-wood back. Who keep a little kraut in brine and string some pop-corn on the line.

Some men have plenty at their door, and yet they sleep and pout and snore, 'til comes the day when age appears and then they shed their briny tears. And many then are forced to live on what their children to them give. 'Tis then, they wish they'd laid away some berries for a rainy day.

My experience with a second-hand flivver has made me wonder how some of the good brethren can drive the critters and continue in the ministry. However, there are some mighty good used cars advertised for sale on this page today. Read every ad.

And now comes a fellow from Port William writing that he can remember the day when one didn't need an experienced eye to tell the difference between a wrestling match and a dance, but anymore the amount of clothes worn and the action is about the same in either case. He wants to know what the world's coming to. You tell him I just had a tooth pulled and can't talk plain.

SHE BOBBED IT

A fellow once dreamed of her flowing hair,
And of how it would hang down her shoulders;
But now he goes round with a sorrowing stare,
For back in the alley it moulders.

That still water runs deep was proven last week when moonshine whiskey was flowing from a still in a mine two hundred feet below the ground.

FIRST SCHOOL DAY FINDS ATHLETES OF CENTRAL HIGH BUSY

King Football, monarch of Fall sports, returned to the throne usurped by basketball last fall, when more than a score of embryo athletes engaged in practice at Cox Memorial Athletic Field Monday afternoon on the opening day of school at Central High.

Coach Vic Kolb, Central's new mentor, anticipates much hard labor ahead before the opening game as he is confronted with the task of reconstructing the East Church Street eleven from its foundation.

Graduation depleted the ranks of the letter men but Coach Kolb is optimistic of presenting a formidable team on the field this year.

Coach Kolb believes the freshmen crop of athletes is unusually good this year and that the ambitious youngsters are being taught the rudiments of the game. Experience is the best teacher, it is said, and the new athletic instructor intends to give the lower classmen plenty of experience during the fall campaign.

Candidates will be placed through stiff workouts every evening and the first scrimmage will be engaged in probably Friday. A number of new uniforms have been purchased and will be allotted to the regulars shortly before the opening game.

Coach Kolb is attempting to schedule several more games to fill gaps existing in the 1925 grid schedule and a complete list of games at home and abroad will be announced soon.

The plaintiff declared his son was injured and his car damaged to the extent of $1,000. The defendant was guilty of negligence in driving at a high rate of speed, was under influence of liquor and failed to sound a warning, the petition recites. Marshall and Marshall are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Jews Will Observe Rosh Hashanah or New Year on Friday

The Jewish people Friday night, September 18, will enter their houses of worship to usher in their Rosh Hashanah, or New Year, 5686, which marks the beginning of the cycle of sacred observances held during the month of Tishri, the seventh month of the Jewish calendar.

While every New Moon, in ancient times, was greeted by the sounds of the Shofar (or trumpet) the seventh month of New Moon, coming after six months of work in the field, was welcomed with religious exercises as a month of rest and recreation by the agricultural inhabitants of Palestine.

The Jewish New Year is known by different names, and each expresses something of its spiritual significance. For instance it is designated as "The Day of Blowing the Trumpet". Rosh Hashanah is also known as The Day of Memorial, the Day of Judgment, of self-examination.

Special music and prayers mark the observance of the Feast, which, though solemn, is nevertheless replete with the spirit of joy and optimism. While Orthodox Jewry devotes two days, Roman Judaism observes only one day.

Xenia Minister Delivers Sermon

The large company of Xenia friends of the Rev. John G. King, D. D. of Columbus, will be interested in the observance this week of his twenty-fifth anniversary as pastor of the Nell Avenue United Presbyterian Church of Columbus.

By request of the pastor and congregation the anniversary sermon was delivered Sunday night by the Rev. Charles P. Prudden, D. D. of the Second U. P. Church of Xenia.

President W. O. Thompson of the Ohio State University made the address at Monday night's meeting.

Tuesday night was reunion night of members of twenty-five years ago and Wednesday night brings the celebration to a close with a reception at the church Parish House.

Dr. King was graduated from Xenia Theological Seminary and is ranked as one of the strongest men of his denomination.

Bath Township to Vote on School Levy

Voters of Bath Township, and Osborn and Fairfield villages, will be asked by the Bath Township Consolidated Rural School District to support an extra three mill tax levy for a period of five years at the November elections, it is announced. The proposed levy is outside of all limitations.

In a resolution adopted by the board of education of the school district it was pointed out "that the amount of taxes for school purposes that may be raised by levy of taxes at the maximum rate authorized by law, is insufficient to provide an adequate amount for the necessary requirements of the school district and that it is necessary to levy taxes in excess of the limitations for the purposes of meeting current expenses of the district".

Conference to Act on Uniting Church

Columbus, O., Sept. 16 — Action on the proposal to unite the Methodist Episcopal church, North, with the M. E. Church, south, is expected to be taken by the delegates attending the 114th annual Ohio M. E. conference which opened here today at Third Avenue M. E. church.

The clergyman held their initial session this morning. Sessions are scheduled to continue daily until Tuesday when pastores for the coming year will be announced.

The laymen's association of the conference, also is holding its annual meeting here this week. Pastors and laymen will hold a joint session Friday.

In Court

Miss Anna Jarvis, nationally known as founder of Mothers' Day, was arraigned in a Philadelphia court on a disorderly conduct charge following a dispute with delegates to the American War Mothers' convention. She objected to their adoption of the carnation as their national emblem.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

Chapter 100.

Three years later Mr. and Mrs. Michael Menlow and son, Michael Menlow, Jr., motored to the city to visit Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Capper. The garage in which they deposited their car occupied the site of Menlow House. The street that the old mansion had once adorned was now given over to trade. It seemed to them that they had been away ages and ages. In the evening, after dinner at the Capper home, the old friends chatted over their pipes. Inside the house the women were engaged in putting to bed Michael Menlow, Jr. and Lilah Capper.

Lonnie took Michael's hand affectionately. "Old thing, I often wonder about you. Just between me and you, have you ever regretted getting married?"

Michael did not reply immediately. "No, I don't think I have. I'm sure I'm glad I'm married now. I'm really happy, Lonnie."

"And so am I, although I never expected to be."

"Why did you get married, then?"

"Oh, I wanted to see what it was like. I imagined I knew all about life. But one never knows life, or humans, until one has been married. No one ever knows a mother, or a father, or a brother, like one knows a wife. We can never even understand our children as well as we do the person we are married to."

"I had never thought of that. But, still, we never do understand our wives. A man just can't understand a woman. But women always understand men."

Lonnie smiled. "I suspect you're right. I've had to revise my philosophy."

PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR TAX AMENDMENT

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 15—Plans for the campaign supporting the proposal that voters at the November election adopt the proposed taxation and debt limitation amendments to the Ohio constitution are to be considered here this afternoon at a meeting of directors of the Ohio chamber of commerce.

Consideration, also, is to be given to the state police and old age pension propositions. Frank B. McMillen, Mt. Gilead, is president of the organization.

When You Want to Know DEVOE

He had not thought of Claudie Horner in more than two years. Lilah and Helen emerged from the house and joined the men on the porch.

"What are you two quarrelling about now?"

"Oh, nothing," Lonnie explained. "I was just telling him how much I liked the story about him in the American Magazine—you know, 'How I Struggled to Stand on My Own Feet,' Salute Michael, the Success!"

Michael grabbed Lilah and drew her to him.

"Bows for my best friend and severest critic," he shouted, kissing her.
